9th Annual MSU Undergraduate Philosophy Conference Schedule, 2019

Friday, 3/22 in South Kedzie 530

3:00 – 5:00 p.m. Keynote lecture by Mariam Thalos, Professor of Philosophy, University of Tennessee, Knoxville:

“The Logic of Freedom, or Parallels between the Logic of Making Oneself and the Logic of Meaning”

6:00 – Reception/dinner/party at the home of Prof. Todd Hedrick
1409 Wellington Rd.; Lansing, MI 48910

Saturday, 3/23 in South Kedzie 530

9:00 a.m. Breakfast (coffee and pastries)

9:30 a.m. Jason Witte, Michigan State University, "Forms of Alienation and Oppression within Du Bois and Baldwin as Being Grounded in Rousseau and Marx"
Commentators: Gabe Lozano and Donja Brown

10:30 a.m. Ben Schwabe, Michigan State University, “The Republic at War: Is there a Place for Justice in Combat?”
Commentator: Namjun Park

11:30 a.m. Zachary Irving, Loyola Marymount University, “Plato and the Particular”
Commentator: Sean Perry

12:30 p.m. Lunch break

1:30 p.m. Santana Boulton, Michigan State University, "Honneth, Misrecognition, and Sexual Violence"
Commentator: Chayse Hurley

2:30 p.m. Thomas Sanfilippo, Oakland University, “Alphas and Betas: An Exploration of Moral Membership within the False Dichotomy of Humans and Non-humans”
Commentators: Lexy Morris and JD Lavacare

3:30 p.m. Logan Cross, Michigan State University, “Treatise on Euphemistic Language: Degradation of Meaning and Truth”
Commentator: Santana Boulton

Questions? Contact Prof. Todd Hedrick (hedrickt@msu.edu)